

Kelly College South Africa Expedition 2012 are fundraising to buy sports equipment for under privileged children in a school in a remote South African village.

15 students from Kelly are going out to South Africa in July 2012 and as part of the expedition they are going to run a sports camp for youngsters who currently have no facilities.

The hope is then to leave all the equipment in country to allow them to continue with the activities once we have left.

How can you help?

As part of the fundraising we are selling bespoke Kelly College Wacky Sox in the design below. All profits from the socks go to the project and the buying of sports equipment. Socks can be worn to training and socially inside and outside of school (not matches).

ALL WackySox are made featuring a comfortable padded foot which in turn boasts a high performance 75% COOLMAX® construction.

Cost:

Size 2-6 = £9.00

Size 7-11 = £9.00

If you would like to order a pair of these socks please complete the order form attached and return to Miss Cuckston by Thursday 1st March 2012.
